Also, we should not make all the names financial sounding (Capital, Management, Investments etc.).

We should add words like "Manufacturing", "Productions", "Technology"

I was thinking about some ideas for names – the primary names were just random, but as we discussed I was pairing them with names that sound like financial entities (e.g., Starfish Capital LLC, Granite Partners LLC, Basalt Ventures LLC, Dolomite Management LLC). In any case, to the extent there are particular names that you are partial to, let me know.

Regards,
Peter

Richard and John,

I wanted to follow-up with you both on the status of the additional information regarding the new ex-dividend trades. As you we recall, you were going to provide us with, among other things, a list who is going to be involved in the various partnerships and related LLCs, along with one or more sample Forms 8802 from one of the most recent structures etc.

Please let me know where this stands.

Regards,
Peter
